Hello Brethren,

First I would like to thank all of the Brethren for all of your dedication throughout the Lodge. Your support has been greatly appreciated. May is here already! Spring has sprung and a new season is in full bloom. Just as spring is about a renewal so should we likewise endeavor to continue to keep our masonic journey renewed. Maybe we can catch up on some interesting reading, or make some time to catch up with a Brother we haven't seen in a while. Doing this will help not only intellectually, but socially.

Brethren, I hope everyone is enjoying the spring weather. It's always interesting when 40 degrees feels warm.

The Feast of the Paschal Lamb is April 19th. You have received your invitations via email, please get back to me by April 12th if you plan on attending. The Feast is a celebration honoring the brothers we have lost this year.

Also, please find the Scottish Rite breakfast schedule below, all brothers and their friends and families are invited.

The Men and Munchies meetings have been going very well. Every meeting a different brother has been presenting a topic that is of interest to him. It may be a hobby, it may be a life experience, whatever the presenter thinks may start a conversation. We all have strengths and weaknesses and we are bound to aid, support and protect each other. It is hoped these meetings will put the Brother back in Brotherhood.

I am also looking for brave souls to give presentations at the Men and Munchies meetings. In doing so you will help brethren get the most out of their membership. Thank you.

Vegetables are a must on a diet. I suggest carrot cake, zucchini bread, and pumpkin pie. —Jim Davis

THE CHARGES OF A FREEMASON

In many installation services is to be found the instruction to a Master to "cause the Book of Constitutions to be read in your Lodge." The "Book of Constitutions, guarded by the Tiler's Sword" is found in practically all Masonic rituals. How many Masters have "caused them to be read" in their Lodges? A few modern codes of laws in certain Jurisdictions reprint some or all, but the average member of a Lodge seldom reads, let alone possesses, a copy of his Jurisdiction's Code!

The basis, the foundation, of many of the philosophies and high teachings of the Ancient Craft are here to be found. They are not less, rather are they more, interesting and romantic when thought of in connection with the formal age in which they were first reduced to print by the eminent, hard working, if somewhat inaccurate Dr. James Anderson.

Anderson was born in Aberdeen, Scotland, and was a Master of Arts of the Marischal College of that city. In London he was a minister in a Presbyterian Chapel for almost a quarter of a century. Just where Anderson was made a Mason is not known; nor do we know just when he joined in London, nor the name of the Lodge of which he was Master. Although he himself gives other reasons for the writing of the "Constitutions" it seems probable that it was largely a private venture, even if it was sanctioned by Grand Lodge. What Grand Lodge apparently did not sanction was the liberties he took with Payne's regulations, and probably with some of the Charges.

As printed by Anderson the Old Charges are set forth under six "General Heads" which are, "Of God and Religion", "Of the Civil Magistrate Supreme and Subordinate", "Of Lodges", "Of Masters, Wardens, Fellows and Apprentices", "Of the Management of the Craft in Working" and "Of Behavior, (1) In the Lodge while constituted, (2) After the Lodge is over and the Brethren not gone, (3) When the Brethren meet without strangers but not in a Lodge, (4) In the presence of strangers not Masons, (5) At home and in the neighborhood, and (6) Towards a strange Brother."

"Of God and Religion" sets forth the duty of a Mason to obey the moral law, and also includes that passage on which Masonic religious tolerance is based. Here also is the fount from which springs the admonition that by the association of good men and true, Masonry becomes "the means of conciliating true friendship among persons that must have remained at a perpetual distance."

"Of the Civil Magistrate, Supreme and Subordinate" is along paragraph concerned with the relation of a Mason to the "Civil Powers". It forbids rebellion, plots and conspiracies, and states that Masonry flourishes in peace and is injured by war, bloodshed and confusion.

"Of Lodges" exhorts the brother always to belong to one - i.e., not be an unaffiliated Mason. It also speaks of the need of obeying a summons, and closes with the statement, in which all Jurisdictions now concur, that "The persons admitted members of a Lodge must be good men and true, freeborn, and of a mature and discrete age, no bondmen, no women, no immoral or scandalous men, but of good report."

The fourth Charge "Of Masters, Wardens, Fellows and Apprentices" might easily be more observed than it is in these days when "the line" is almost sacrosanct and many a Lodge suffers because some careless or indifferent brother is "advanced" from year to year, merely because he started, not because of a fitness for being a Warden or Master. This Charge begins: "All preferment among Masons is grounded upon real worth and personal merit" and states that "no Master or Warden is chosen by seniority but by merit."

"Of the management of the Craft in Working" demands honest labor on working days, that the most expert be chosen Master or Overseer of the Lord's work, that Craftsmen avoid bad language and call no names, but behave courteously, that the Master be reasonable in his charges and pay only honest wages.

The final charge "Of Behavior" is most explicit. Brethren are not to hold private committees without leave of the Master nor interrupt any one speaking to the Master. No jesting behavior is to be tolerated when the Lodge is engaged upon solemn business.

After Lodge is over brethren may enjoy themselves "with innocent mirth". No one is obliged to eat or drink if he does not wish to, and harmony is to be preserved. Private quarrels are forbidden, and especially are the brethren enjoined against quarrels about religion, politics and state policy.

Such, in brief sketch, are the Ancient Charges, Old Charges or "Charges of a Freemason" as they were printed for the Mother Grand Lodge in 1723. Many of these ideas are based upon provisions in the oldest manuscript Constitutions, especially the Cooke. Anderson never saw the Regius manuscript, but many of the statements in that oldest Masonic document are repeated in later manuscript Constitutions, some of which Anderson had.

Doubtless Anderson added somewhat of himself, indeed, he is known to have altered texts and even Grand Lodge actions, in reporting them in print! But whether or not the Old Charges as he printed them are wholly accurate reflections of the theory and practice of Freemasonry in 1723, they are, to us of the modern Masonic world, revered as law, revered, even when we break them, as when we elect, instead of appointing, a Deputy Grand Master!

As a whole however, the Old Charges are concerned with a man's relations with his God, his fellowman and his own conscience. They are a body of spiritual teachings, of admonition and exhortations designed to keep Masons on friendly terms with Masons, and to make of the fraternity a living, moving vehicle in which man may travel happily with his fellowman.

Knightly greetings to Sir Knights wheresoever dispersed! Our Combined Inspection went over extremely well and much enjoyment was had at the Templar Ball that followed. The work of preparing for an Inspection is by no means a light and trifling matter. Our Eminent Commander for the previous term, Jeff Andersen did an outstanding job leading the charge and is to be congratulated on a job well done. Thanks must also be extended to St. Omer Commandery and Marinette Commandery who were jointly inspected with us and filled several critical parts.

At this time we would like to congratulate our new line of Officers, especially our new Eminent Commander, Sir Knight Jacob Sylveste!. With the potential pool of candidates growing for Palestine Commandery #20, we may see a time soon where we will be conferring the Order of the Temple a little more often. The potential exists for us to possibly do an Order of the Temple prior to going dark. Saturday June 10, 2017 is the Grand Conclave of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar of Wisconsin. This Grand Conclave will be especially important for Palestine Commandery as Sir Knight Charles Clarage will be nominated Right Eminent Grand Commander of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar in the State of Wisconsin. Also, Sir Knight Jeffery Lancelle will be nominated as Grand Warder. Congratulations Sir Knights Charlie and Jeff! This will take place at Lake Lodge in Milwaukee, if you are interested in attending, please let Sir Knight Recorder Nic Schuh know as soon as possible. May this find you and your family well, and ready for a wonderful summer.

Masonic Publications

The Masonic Service Association of the United States was created in 1919 by the Grand Lodges of the United States for performing a number of services under one central organization.

Some of those services have changed over the years, but MSA remains an organization dedicated to serving Freemasonry, our country, and the world. Since 1923, MSA has published the Short Talk Bulletin every month. It is considered the most widely distributed Masonic publication in the world. If you are interested in getting Further Light in Masonry visit the MSA website and look at the Online Store. There are 41 available Digests with everything from Adventures in Masonry, The Regius Poem, Information on writing your own articles, jurisprudence and Leadership help for preparing for the East. There are also 14 plays, 12 of them written by Carl Claudy, that can be done in open Lodge and in front of the Public. Most of the Digests are $4.00 each with just 6 of them a couple dollars more. The plays are only $2.00 each and there are 3 Volumes still available for purchase which contain 15 years of Short Talk Bulletin starting from 1938 all the way to 1982. You may also purchase monthly Short Talk Bulletins printed every month for only $12 a year Masonic Service Association of North America.

Library Notes

ALICE BYRNES, DI
(920) 662-9191

The months of May and June will be busy with the Library/Museum Director and her husband participating in a variety of introductions to the Masonic Fraternity that are open to the public as well as Masons and their families. Many of these activities have come as a result of our recent membership in the Brown County Federation of Historic Organizations.

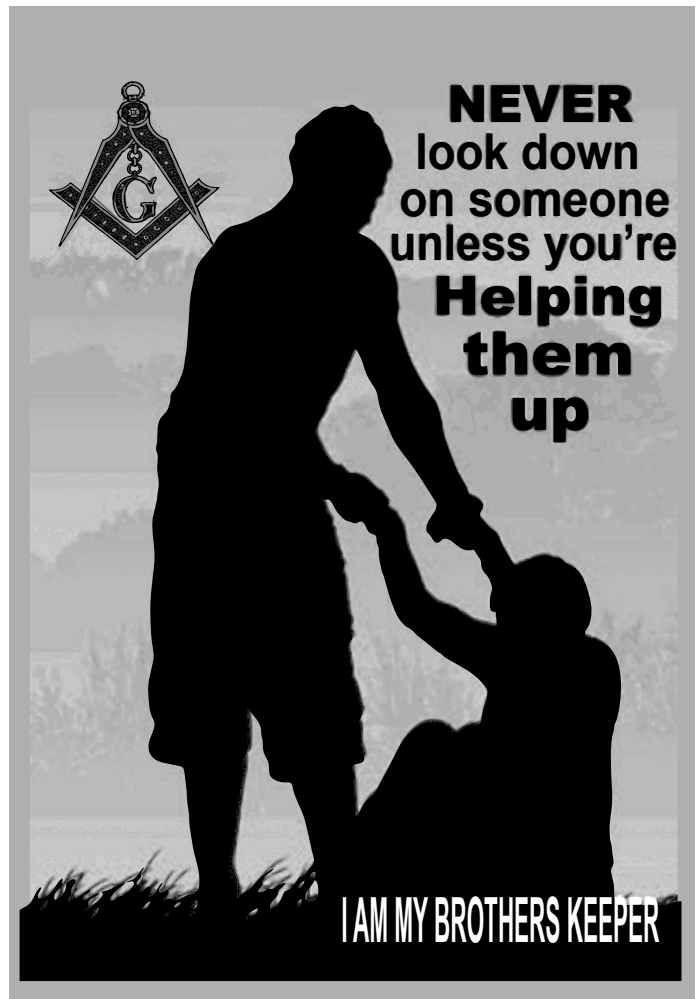

Tuesday, May 9th - 6:00 pm a presentation will be given at the Neville Museum, 210 Museum Place, in Green Bay about Masonry; its early beginnings, history in the area, charitable endeavors and fraternalism with a question and answer period to follow. This program is open to anyone who would like to gain more information about the Fraternity and its various charities. Hopefully many Masons will be able to attend and assist in the questions and answers period.

Wednesday, May 17th - 4:00 - 8:00 pm, The Brown County Federation of Historic Organizations is having their third annual History Treasure tour. The Northeast Wisconsin Masonic Library/Museum will be participating. The Library and Museum will be open and Library/Museum Board members will be in the Museum giving tours and answering questions. Since we want the visit to the Masonic Center to be a positive experience to those who have never been in the building, and may have some curiosity about our activities, we would appreciate several people volunteering to act as building guides. This is an open house activity with ten other Historical Organizations being open at the same time, we have no idea what the attendance will be - we just want everyone to feel welcome. This is an information event, not a membership recruitment activity. Please let Alice Byrnes know if you are able to serve as a tour guide for all or part of the four hour event.

June 10th - September 3rd - is the big event. The Neville Museum has contracted with the Grand Lodge of Masons in Washington, DC to display "The Initiated Eye, Secrets, Symbols, Freemasonry and the Architecture of Washington, DC". These twenty - very large paintings - explore the Masonic ideals and designs implicit in the fabric of our nation's capital. From the republican ideals made manifest in stone to carefully defined vistas linking famous heroes who were also Freemasons. The Initiated Eye offers an intriguing architectural and historical perspective by combining artist Peter Waddell's paintings with Masonic artifacts from the Northeast Wisconsin Masonic Library/Museum.

This will be the first time this display has visited the State of Wisconsin. Comments from people who have seen the display give the same message - this is something you do not want to miss.

Jobies, a fun nickname for Job's Daughters, love to help the community! We raise money for the Hearing Impaired Kids Endowment (HIKE) each year. HIKE gives the money to help children with hearing aids and other equipment to help kids hear. Over $3 million has been raised and 2,260 hearing devices have been donated.

Tim Vanden Heuvel presented a $1000 check on behalf of the Allstate Foundation to Zoey Andersen, Junior Princess of Bethel #32 of Green Bay, WI. The Allstate Foundation awards grants to selected non-profit organizations that their agents and staff volunteer time supporting in their local communities. We would like to thank the Allstate agents and staff, specifically the one in Green Bay and staff member James Stanton. We appreciate your continued support and look forward to working with you all in the future.

Hope Andersen will be collecting brand new arts and crafts for the month of May for Riah's Rainbow. She would like to bring joy and smiles to children around the state that are in the hospital for a long period of time. A few of the hospitals include St. Vincent Hospital of Green Bay and Children's Hospital of Milwaukee. Some of the items that are needed are coloring books, colored pencils, and playdough. There will be a donation box located at the N.E.W Masonic Center and the Beja Temple. You may also contact Jeff or Stephanie Andersen via email jander-son135@new.rr.com or cell phone 920-366-4575.

NEW Masonic Center Building Board

Welcome to Summer all of our Brethren and friends!

Might you have a loved one who is or has served in the military? If so, the N.E.W. Masonic Center will be installing memorial bricks to honor their sacrifice. These bricks will be placed around our flagpole by the main entrance and will be a lasting tribute to honor those who have and do serve. Orders may be placed online at www.thatsmybrick.com/newmasonic/ or by going to newmasoniccenter.com and clicking the link to order on the home page. There will also be forms by the brochures in the lobby for people to fill out. If there are any questions, please contact a member of the Building Board.

Greetings Brothers!

I hope everyone had a Happy Easter!! It's finally spring now that the April showers have left us with May flowers.

March and April have been busy for Washington Lodge. The first meeting of April we had a wonderful turn out for our James L. Fox Mason of the Year dinner. We honored Jim Van De Hey as our Mason of the Year and he's truly deserving of it.

Congratulations to Brother Zack Faulks who received his Master Mason Degree on April 20th. Zach has worked hard on all his postings and did a great job with every one of them.

As we move into May and June the first meeting in May is the 4th and we have school of instruction with District Lecturer

Moses Adams. On May 6th Washington Lodge will host a Green Bay Blizzard Arena Football game with other Lodges and Brothers attending. Kickoff is at 7pm, speak to Jim Van De Hey or myself if you and your family are interested in attending.

Our second meeting in May is on the 18th. That will be our annual meeting at Heritage Hill, going back to our roots. There will be a BBQ before the meeting, then we will commence with lodge, dinner is the normal time. However we don't go in the front gates of Heritage Hill we use the secret entrance on Lazzare Ave.

June brings us the possibility of more degree work before we go dark.

There is also talk of a lodge golf outing towards the end of June, information to follow and a notification will be mailed out if you're interested, friends and family are invited as well.

In closing, I hope to see you all at lodge and a reminder that dinner is at 6pm and the Gavel will sound at 7pm.

All Line Officers, Elected or Appointed are asked to wear a blue suit coat and gray slacks for every meeting. Let's get back to how we used to dress.

May 4th meeting: School of Instruction & Masonic Education

May 18th meeting: Heritage Hill Meeting & Masonic Education

June 2nd & 3rd is the 173rd Communication for Grand Lodge of Wisconsin

June 8th meeting: Masonic Education
